Letter Home Tells All About It

Campbell Family Leaves Cairo in Hurry As Situation in Mid-East Gets Hot

First hand information of the strife-torn Mid-East situation is contained in the following letter received by Mrs. W. C. Bohnett, 195 W. Rincon Ave., from her stepdaughter (Emily) Mrs. Paul Roberts, also a Campbell resident, who with her husband (Dr. Paul Roberts) and their three children were recently evacuated from Cairo.

Dr. Roberts, on leave from the English department of San Jose State College, had begun his second year of teaching at the University of Cairo when the present crisis arose in the Middle East. Previous to going to Egypt, the family were Campbell residents at 175 W Rincon Ave. Their home here is presently rented to Dr. and Mrs. David P. Edgell, Dr. Edgell is also on the San Jose State faculty and is a former head of the English Department of the University of Cairo.—EDITOR

Dear Nita,

"Had to figure out day and date for the heading as time has simply not existed since Halloween. We are now in a Naples hotel and on our own again until Paul gets some word of what to plan for. We were roused at 5 a.m. this morning and have been all day getting off the General Patch, so if my sentences weave a bit groggily, it's from the 4 or 5 (?) days at sea.

Get Ready To Leave!

"Monday evening we were pleasantly entertaining Ed and Paul, gossiping about news of an Israeli invasion, when the doorbell rang and a Mr. Lewis came in to tell us that he was our "warden" and could we be ready to leave Cairo by next morning. This rather dazed us but we proceeded thru Mohammed's good meal and on to flute and piano work until about 10:30 (Paul had been trying to call various people for advice).

"Another Fulbrighter called and said that the Israili were 50 miles from the Suez Canal and he was due to leave at 4:00 a.m. So Paul bustled off to Cairo with the students, leaving me to begin packing. The people due to leave on the 4:00 plane arrived at the airport to find the airport's door closed by the Egyptian gov't., so came back. Tuesday we sat around, packed more—Paul tried to find out if he should go or stay. Mr. Lewis returned and said be ready to leave Wednesday at 7 a.m. This was called off at 6:00 a.m. and we chewed our fingernails, directed by ambassadorial notice to stay home, till about noon when Mr. Lewis told us to pack the car, take lunch and blankets and meet at Maadi School.

Big Farewell

"We did this in short order, locked our trunks, bid sad farewell to Mohammed, who needs the job, left our key with the landlady. The cars left Maadi at 1:30, waited around in Cairo till 3:00, got to Alexandria by 9:00, got caught in a blackout and got to a hotel about 11:00, ate our lunch sandwiches and fell into bed. Next day up for breakfast with all the other Americans—Alexandria hotels had good business for one night—left our baggage at the hotel bus and went to another hotel to join more bus passengers. (The previous night a driver had taken the car and keys—labeled to the consulate).

"Again after more waits and air raids—the Egyptians running the sea wall to watch the bombing and anti-aircraft, just like a circus —we got passports stamped. About this time Paul, who had decided to return to Cairo with American University people, appeared and said they had changed their minds, so he would be with us. We were delivered to a Naval Air Transport, the U.S.S. Fort Snelling which had made room for passengers along with two other ships. We waited there that night while more people came on, watching occasional fighting when we

Teenagers Admit Range Vandalism

Two 14-year old Campbell High School students with no other reason than the urge to destroy on Sunday afternoon did $550 damage to property owned by Western Grravel Corp. on Railway Ave.

Then, ironically, they continued on their destructive spree and destroyed the police shooting range. sponsored for the youth of the community on the gravel firm's property.

The two youths were apprehended on Tuesday afternoon while in school and admitted their vandalism. First offenders, they have been turned over to the Youth Guidance Committee for disciplinary action.

During their Sabbath afternoon rampage the boys broke windshields, headlights and mirrors on eight trucks and cut the air brake lines on seven of them.

The local Police Auxiliary have sponsored the rifle range for several years and many local youngsters each Saturday have enjoyed its facilities. The material and labor to build the range, now completely wrecked, were donated.

Now because two teenagers have seen fit to wreck the installation, other teenagers of the community will have to forego this form of recreation.

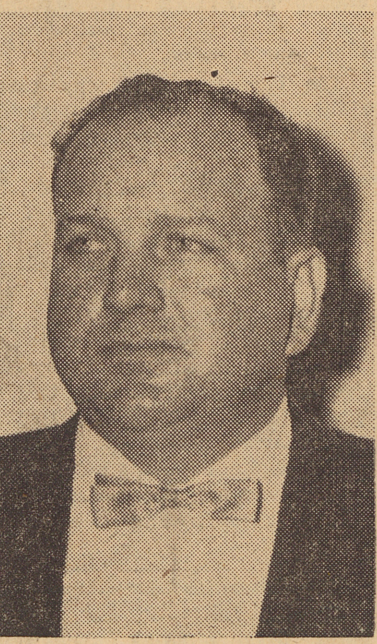
Chamber of Commerce Faces Financial Crisis

Faced with a grave financial crisis and with the survival of an active Chamber of Commerce at stake, the directors of the C. of C. acted this week to stave off the "closing of its doors" and by their action hoped it would be possible to continue with the services of Sam Cava as full-time secretary-manager.



GENTRY R. WARREN
. . . Membership Boss

The directors named Gentry R. Warren, one of the new business men of the community and general manager of the Bay Area Credit Service, 301 E. Campbell Ave., to be director of the year-round membership program for the Chamber. The objective of the new membership director will be to interest the present non-members of the C. of C. into aligning themselves with the active organization. Despite its limited membership the local Chamber has carried out a full program of activities during the past eleven months.

Milt Nelson, president of the C. of C., in announcing the appointment of Warren as the new membership director, pointed out that membership dues was the main source of income for the organization and without a full membership C. of C. could not operate.

Nelson said that at the present time there are only 90 active members out of a potential of more than 300.

The president recalled that the Chamber this year started from scratch (or even below that) and that the appointment of Cava as manager had placed the organization on a going basis but without more members, he said, it would be impossible to operate.

Nelson said that Cava had taken the lead in all new annexation projects for the City. He said that the Chamber had assumed this responsibility because it was felt that the entire community would benefit from an aggressive annexation policy. In effect, Nelson pointed out, Cava had become an "ex-officio city official" because there was no city official in a position to do the necessary spade work, so the C. of C. took over.

During the year the Chamber has staged an active campaign to interest new industries to locate in Campbell. A number of firms have already indicated that they will come here, the president reported, which means additional payrolls for the community.

Warren, the new membership head, plans to contact potential members immediately. He said that those joining now will only have to pay their 1957 dues. It is imperative he said because of the treasury deficit to obtain a substantial number of new members at once.

Hospital District Votes For Directors on Tuesday

Richard E. Ryan of 1907 E. Ridgeley Drive, Campbell, is one of four candidates seeking election to the Board of Directors of the West Valley Hospital District. The election will be held next Tuesday (November 20).

There are three positions to be filled on the five-man board. The other four candidates are, Jonathan Baker, Cambrian Park; Wendell Hammon, Saratoga; and C. J. James Miller, Los Gatos.

Ryan is the only incumbent seeking election for the four year term. Elections are held every two years, with three openings alternating with two.

The district was formed in 1949. Since then it has presented two bond issues to finance a hospital. Both issues were voted down.

The district takes in the communities of Los Gatos, the incorporated area of Saratoga, and Campbell and its adjacent areas.

The district has collected no taxes since 1954.

The funds accumulated from taxation since the district was established until 1954 are adequate to meet expenses.

Precincts 3, 8, 9, 11, and 12 in Campbell will vote at the Campbell Union High School District office, 151 N. Winchester Road; precincts 2, 4, 5, 10 and 14 vote at the Campbell Grammar School, 11 E. Campbell Ave., Campbell; precincts 1, 6, 7 and 13 will vote at the I.O.O.F. Hall, First and Campbell Ave., Campbell.

By Adjustment

City Hall Cost Holds the Line

Converting the old Campbell Congregational Church on N. Central Ave., into Campbell's first city hall will not cost any more than originally estimated, City Councilmen were told Friday night. But it will be necessary to adjust the breakdown on the original estimate for the overall job.

The City Council met in an adjourned meeting Friday to digest the cost sheet presented on the project by W. L. (Bud) Morser, city building inspector and Fred Marberg, architect, in charge of the remodeling.

The report showed that it was estimated that $25,000 was needed with $5000 of this earmarked for furnishings. Some of the furnishings are now being built in, it was reported, so that this figure could be substantially reduced thus allowing an additional $3500 to be spent on construction and painting.

The target date for completion of December 17 remains unchanged.

Council Takes up Winchester Plan

Campbell City Council will hold a public hearing on the adoption of the official plan line for Winchester Road on Monday night. The plan, as recommended by the Planning Commission after months of discussion, will take property equally from both side of the street when the thoroughfare is eventually widened.

The Council will also hold the public hearing on the establishment of a light manufacturing zone for the area located at the southern city limits, recently annexed to the City. This area adjoins the parcel of land (also scheduled to come into the city) on which Cascade Research Inc., plans to build

A letter from Governor Goodwin Knight, directed to city officials, will also be read at the meeting calling attention to the state of unrest which exists throughout the world and suggesting that city officials recognize the importance of having definite civil defense plans.

Routine Agenda Faces City Planners Tonight

Another light agenda is in store for the City Planners when they meet in their regular meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Country Woman's Clubhouse.

Only one of the items listed gives any indication that the otherwise routine and harmonious business session might be disturbed: The Planners will be asked to give "S" zone approval for a subdivision sign at Rosemary Lane and Winchester Road.

School Districts Seek Millions in State Aid

Indicative of the phenomenal population growth anticipated in the Campbell area in the years to come is the $16.5 million in State loans and bond issues to be voted on by residents of the Campbell Union Elementary School District and the Campbell High School District at a probable joint election February 5 of next year.

Campbell High School District Trustees Tusday set $2,500,000 as the amount of its bond issue. This amount, along with a seven million dollar State loan, will be needed to finance school construction.

The Elementary School District also has authorized its trustees to issue up to two million dollars in bonds and to accept up to five million in State aid.

Astronomical Figures

The total of $16.5 million probably will be voted on at a joint election between the high school and elementary school districts. Although no definite arrangements have been made, both district are in favor of a joint election as a way to save money.

The high school district's funds would be used to construct three new high schools by 1962. Sites for the three schools have already been chosen. It is proposed that construction will begin on each of the schools only a few months apart, according to Laurance J. Hill, superintendent of the high school district. Facilities to accommodate freshmen and sophomores will be finished in each school and loads will be staggered between the three.

Enrollment Climbs

Enrollment in the district at present is close to 3000. Grammar school population in the schools which feed the high school district, according to Hill, indicates that high school enrollment in four years can be expected to be close to 7000. All three schools are expected to be virtually completed by 1961.

The schools will be built along the lines of Camden High School, which was completed three years ago. They will have 40 rooms, including a cafeteria, auditorium and gymnasium. According to Hill, the capacity of each school will be 1500, with allowances made for additional work to enable them to accommodate close to 2000 each—10,000 in all, including Camden and Campbell high schools. Enrollment is expected to hit 7000 by 1962.

Hill has said that the maximum tax increase in the high school district if the measures pass will be not more than five cents, and that taxes will not be increased for another three years.

Seven New Schools

Turning to the elementary school district, the seven million dollars in funds would be used to build seven new schools and purchase three additional sites within the next five years.

The district is presently operating 10 schools, with two scheduled to open next year—Parkway and Blackford schools. The district is awaiting the approval of the State Board of Finance on the Parkway school. According to C. E. Bradley, elementary school district business manager, an application for State aid has been filed for the proposed Blackford school.

The plans for Hazelwood school are on the drawing boards and the site is purchased. Whether it will be constructed in the near future or not depends upon the housing develpoment in its area, Bradley reported. The site for another school—Lynhaven—has been purchased and will no doubt be constructed within the next three years.

State Allocations

The State allocations would break down as follows, according to Bradley: $2,900,000 for construction of new schools; $800,000, site purchase; $150,000, 10 more portable classrooms (the district presently has eight); and one million for the addition to present schools of 43 classrooms, including two shops and two homemaking rooms. This totals $4,850,000. The remaining $2,150,000, (out of the original seven million), will be used for site developments, contingencies and for unexpected growth and rising costs according to Bradley.

The seven new schools (including Blackford and Parkway will furnish the district with 204 classrooms—it now has 123 classrooms, including the proposed Parkway school.

Up To 12,200

If present trends in population increases continue, Bradley pointed out, the district will probably contain close to 12,200 children. It

Seek Boundary Commission Okay

Annexation Program Underway

Two annexations, one bringing an industrial site into the City of Campbell and one a residential area, were filed with the County Boundaries Commission this week for action by that body at its meeting next Monday. There are approximately 158 acres in the two projects.

In addition three more annexations are being checked by the City Engineer's office for presentation to the Boundaries Commission at its meeting on December 3. These additions to the City would also be industrial and would "fill in" the section at the southern city limits.

Residential Area

The residential area annexation that was filed this Tuesday will call for an election, since it is inhabited territory with approximately 50 residents, according to Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, who has been instrumental in getting the long awaited "aggressive annexation program" off the ground.

This residential area consist of an "island" of residents by-passed by the City of Campbell when the city limits were extended several years ago. Known as the Campbell Manor Tract, it is almost entirely built up and is located north of West Campbell Ave. Approximately 30 homes are in the tract.

The "island" which includes Victor, Hedegard and Amato avenues is being tied onto a larger area for the annexation election, Cava reported. He said that the annexation map includes all that area adjacent to the Campbell Manor Tract west from the City Limits on W. Campbell Ave. to the east side of San Tomas Aquino Road, then south on San Tomas Aquino Road to Rincon Ave. and east along the north side of Rincon Ave. to the city limits.

Approximately 118 acres, it is estimated, is included in the total area but the parcels that are tied onto the "island" are at the present time devoted to agricultural purposes and have only a few residents.

The approval of the County Boundaries Commission is the first step in bringing this area into the City. The Council will then set the time and place for the election. Cava instigated the move to bring the Campbell Manor Tract into the City, after he had been contacted by a number of residents in the area who indicated their desire to become a part of Campbell. Cava said that, as far as he could determine, there is no opposition to the move.

The other annexation map that will come before the Boundaries Commission on Monday includes an area of more than 40 acres on the south of town just south of Parr Ave. on which Cascade Research Inc., now of Los Gatos, plans to construct a new plant. The new factory will have approximately 30,000 square feet of floor space and will employ about 100 persons.

Officers of the firm some time ago indicated that they preferred to become part of Campbell rather than Los Gatos after Los Gatos had filed an annexation map to include the 20-acres owned by the firm. Los Gatos officials then withdrew their annexation, leaving the way open for Campbell. Under the present annexation program, Campbell and Los Gatos will have a common boundary on several fronts.

The other annexations that are being checked now by the City Engineer and will be submitted on December 3 to the Boundaries Commission will be adjacent to the Cascade property. They will square off the area on the southern city limits between the Southern Pacific Railroad to Parr Ave. and then to the creek. They will also tie onto an area that was recently annexed to the City under Cava's guidance.

Bucs Squeak Past San Jose High in 19-12 Grid Win

By Richard Ferguson

The battling Bucs of Campbell High squeaked past the San Jose Bulldogs last Friday night at Campbell 19-12. Last minute hustle saved the Bulldogs from a complete rout.

San Jose received the opening kick off but failed to score as a pass was intercepted by Scribner. The Campbell line opened up a hole in the right side of the Bulldog defense and Bud Scribner scampered through for a beautiful 73 yard run. Three plays later Scribner plunged across the Bulldogs goal line for a TD. Campbell's first point after kick was made making the score 7-0.

On the kick San Jose ran the ball back to the 25 from the 10 and advanced the pigskin from the 25 to the 10 of Campbell before Koontz, Cordova and company stopped their dribe. First quarter action saw the Bulldogs pick up 8 first downs to the Bucs 2 but Campbell got the all important touchdown.

San Jose came back strong in the early part of the second quarter with a 20 yard touchdown drive. Ray Salvano stopped another Bulldog drive when he jumped high and snared a Bulldog pass on his own 45 yard line. Buran and Scribner helped the Buc cause with some fine offensive running only to lose the ball on a fumble. San Jose picked up five first downs but failed to put the ball into the end zone. The half ended with the score 7-6 with Campbell holding the slim lead.

The Buccaneers came back strongly in the third quarter scoring 2 touchdowns. Two plays after the quarter started Jim Corbus pitched out to Frank Koontz who caught the pass amid a host of Bulldog defensive men. The same play again clicked with Koontz running 30 yards for Campbell's second TD. The Buccaneer line withstood a four play attempt on their own 30 yard line to protect their goal and gain the pigskin.

End Frank Koontz cut loose with a 25 yard pass to Jim Henry who hauled in the ball and scampered 15 yards for a touchdown. On the return Dave Machado snared a San Jose pass proving that linemen can catch passes too. Campbell failed to materialize a drive and were forced to kick on their own 45 yard line. A series of passes by San Jose failed to bolster their scoring hopes as the quarter ended with the score 19-6 in Campbell's favor.

The beginning of the fourth quarter saw the Bucs sustain a Bulldog drive at their front door. With a first down and only two yards to go the Bulldogs expected to push the ball over with ease but they failed to realize the strength of such Campbell stalwarts as Profit, Prnjak, Cordova, Duncan, Salvano, Koontz and Chason. Four plays later Campbell took over on their own two and pushed the ball out to the 20 before having oo kick.

Penalties and short passes helped the Bulldogs move the ball to Campbll's 9 yard line where with one and one half minutes left in the game the Bulldogs launched their final touchdown drive with success. Campbell made no progress before the game ended with the score 19-12 with Campbell on top.

Both teams relied primarily on ground gains as too many passes were being brought down by the opposition. San Jose gained more ground in the first quarter, with Campbell leading in the next two quarters only to be out rushed 7-2 in the final canto.

Bees Come From Behind to Win From Los Gatos

Campbell Union High B football team came back after trailing 13 to 7 at half time, to defeat Los Gatos B's 20 to 13 last Friday night at Los Gatos. The little Bucs sprang into the lead when Tom Perry burst through the line and sprinted 71 yards for a touchdown. Ron Corbus bucked over for the conversion.

The Los Gatos Kittens came right back and marched 51 yards, Mickey Nordquist scoring from the one. Two plays after the kickoff, Campbell fumbled and the Kittens scored again to lead 13 to 7 at halftime.

After the second half kickoff, the Bucs marched 69 yards only to lose the ball. However, three plays later, Perry intercepted a Los Gatos pass and ran it 23 yards for the score. FB Jerry Cooper bucked over for the point. Campbell intercepted another pass on the first play after the kickoff and one play later Perry dashed 23 yards for the final score. The PAT was short.

Bucs to Face Lick Friday

By Richard Ferguson

The Buccaneers of Campbell High, out of the running for the league title this year, hope to dim the chances of the Comets of James Lick when they meet Friday at 3:00 here.

Last week the Bucs showed the Bulldogs of San Jose the short way home on their own field and hope to do the same to Lick. Lick is presently tied with Mt. View for the league leadership ..A loss at the hands of the Buccaneers would set the Comets into second place provided Mt. View comes out on top. Campbell could pull ahead of Santa Clara for a fourth place berth. James Lick has a 4 win, 1 loss record to Campbell's 1-win, 1-loss, 2-tie.

Red Feather Drive Hits 66 Per Cent Of Campbell Goal

Campbell reached 66 per cent of its $10,000 Red Feather campaign goal this week with a total collection of $6,637, Howard Lillingston, Campbell chairman for the campaign, announced this week.

According to Lillingston, "mopping-up" operations are continuing in the Campbell area in an effort to reach the $10,000 goal.

Give The United Way

The following is a break-down, by divisions, of the amounts collected thus far in the Campbell phase of the drive to provde funds for 1957 for 30 Red Feather Agencies throughout Santa Clara County:

Residential—$3174, (75 per cent of the division's goal); Business—$1025, (51 per cent of goal); Professional—$170, (56 per cent of goal); Commerce and Industry—$438, (36 per cent of goal); and Schools—$1828, (91 per cent of goal). Public employees are nureported.

Not included in the total campaign figure for Campbell, according to Lillington, is the $2633 collected by the companion United Givers fund in Campbell Schools.

Overall campaign chairman for the countywide campaign, Edward H. Ryan, of Campbell, reported a total figure of $416,687, or 87 per cent of the overall goal of $478,966. The figures are well ahead of those for last year at this same time, Ryan announced.

He predicted that the drive would go "over the top" this week.

More About Schools

now has an enrollment of 6160, and has doubled every five years since 1927, when there were 500 children enrolled at Campbell Grammar School—then the only school in the district.

Enrollment figures for the district in the past five years are as follows: 1949-50—2303 children; 1950-51 — 2506; 1951-52 — 2932; 1952-53 — 3476; 1953-54 — 3927; 1954-55—4454; 1955-56—5162 and currently the enrollment is 6160.

Bradley stated that the State aid and bond issue would make little or no difference in the present $1.97 tax rate.

He explained that 52 cents of the tax dollar already is going for State aid redemption and bond redemption, and that the State limits the amount of taxation for such repayments.

Heart Attacks at Work Claim Two Area Residents

Jot T. McQuin

Joe T. McQuin, 64, employe at the California Prune & Apricot Growers Association warehouse, Campbell, died November 8 of an apparent heart attack while at his job. He had been under a doctor's care.

He lived at 650 San Tomas Road in Campbell for the past 16 years. Surviving him are his widow, Edith; two sisters, Gertie Lawman and Flossie Wills of Okla., and two brothers, Herman McQuin of Idaho and Paul McQuin of Okla.

Funeral services were held November 10 in the Campbell Memorial Chapel. Remains were sent to Oakwood, Okla., for interment. McQuin was a member of the Masonic Lodge in Oakwood.

Mrs. Vernal Beecher

Mrs. Vernal Beecher, 64, of 13153 Kevin St., Saratoga, died November 8 of an apparent heart attack while at work in a Santa Clara fruit firm. She was a native of San Jose.

She is survived by her son, Robert Dubois of Saratoga; two brothers, Burgess Poole of Tennessee and Percy Poole, and a sister, Mrs. Betty Wilmer of Eureka.

She was a member of the Campbell Chapter No. 553, OES, and the Grandmothers Club of Oakhurst, Madera County.

Funeral services were held yesterday in the Campbell Memorial Chapel, followed by interment in Los Gatos Cemetery.

More About Cairo

weren't made to stay under shelter, and finally went out on Friday about 4:00 p.m.

Marines, Sailors Helpful

"The Marines and Navy men made the trip most pleasant, playing with kids, giving them candy bars. Some men made two seesaws and a rocket which they put up on deck—everybody was nice. The boys acquired plastic and wooden planes and Scott had long talks with a Capt. Nilson and decided to be a Marine when he gets to be 17.

"On Sunday we got to Crete and changed to the General Patch. Altogether from the three ships and added to evacuees from Haifa, Israel, there were about 2200 people in a ship for about 1600 troops. No more nice Marines but a civil service crew shore leave had been postponed to take care of us. So it wasn't so pleasant, but comfortable enough. We slept in tiers of 4, men on one side, women on the other, cabins for mothers of very small children—what a life they led with no help, little room, no toys, etc.

"Anyway we are off now, have had dinner—Scott nearly fell asleep into his soup and the others went off willingly without dessert. I have washed and we are ready for a good sleep.

Baggage Is Lost

"Our one difficulty—almost forgot—is that we have lost our baggage. All our clothes, snapshots, things we really wanted to keep we saw last in front of the Hotel Metropole in Alexandria to be put on a bus with a lot of others. Since then no sign, so it may be still there. We don't know if we will ever see it again. We do have Paul's suitcase and typewriter and manuscript, which he kept separate thinking he would take them back to Cairo, also two blankets and Ellen's doll in a box. But tomorrow we will be off to get a change of clothes for the four of us before the ones we have walk off without us.

"We don't know what happens yet. This will come later—the State Dept. has lots of people to worry about—but we'll let you know. Our mailing address will be c/o American Express, Prazza d'Espagna, Rome—we expect to go there in a day or so.

"Please excuse unclear parts of this letter and let friends know how and where we are, though we'll write as soon as we can. We feel that very few families have had such an educational experience! The kids are sorry to get back to earth. All very healthy and well fed—U.S. Navy food."

Downtown Streets To Dress Up for Christmas Season

Downtown streets of Campbell will be decorated for the Christmas season, it was announced this week by Mrs. Emily McConnell, chairman of the Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. McConnell reported that enough merchants had contributed to the street decoration fund to assure the project. She said that the City Council had earmarked $300 for the decorations provided the merchants raised $800 on their own.

Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said it was planned to have the decorations go up immediately after Thanksgiving.

Those contributing to the street decoration fund this week (names of previous contributors were listed last week) include:

Double AA Market, Dr. Robert Wade, Dr. J. Frederic Snyder, Campbell Washette, Western Gravel Company, Lee Brothers' Market, Shamrock Ice Cream, S & W Chevron Service Station, Benson's Campbell Cleaners, Campbell Memorial Chapel, Tim Moore TV, Campbell Liquor and Sporting Goods, Strong Paint Co., Ed Bealer, Insurance, Western Auto Supply, Campbell Jeweler, Campbell Floral, Campbell Music House, M & M Ice Cream.

Monday's 'Football Jamboree' to Draw Close to 300 Boys

Close to 300 boys are expected to participate in this year's third annual "Football Jamboree" at the Campbell Grammar School Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Nine schools in the Campbell Union Elementary School District will participate, according to Joe Stein, physical education consultant of the District.

The schools will be divided into teams according to the ability and age of the players. There will be an "A" tourney, made up of teams divided into an "American and National League". The "B" teams are divided into "East" and "West" teams. The game is touch football.

Each team will play one quarter against the school of the opposite league. "A" teams will play a 12 minute game— "B" teams a 10 minute game. Physical education teachers will officiate.

Transportation will be proveded by school bus, which will pick the boys up at their home schools. They will be returned to the schools after the games.

The league which accumulates the most points will be judged the winner. Ribbons for all participants will be donated by the Campbell Kiwanis Club. The Club is sponsoring the jamboree in conjunction with the School District.

"A" teams ("National League") are composed of the following schools: Cherry Lane, San Tomas, Moorpark, Hamilton "49ers" and Hamilton "Trojans"; "American League" teams are: Dover, Quito, Rosemary, Monroe ("Blue") and Monroe ("White").

"B" teams ("North") are composed of Rosemary School, Moorpark, Monroe, Cypress "Rams" and Cypress "Bulldogs"; "South" teams are Dover, Cherry Lane, San Tomas, Quito and Hamilton schools.

In the event of rain on Monday, the Jamboree will be postponed until Tuesday, November 20. If it rains on both days, according to Stein, the Jamboree will be cancelled.

Truck Accident Fatal to Former Campbell Man

A. P. Klassen, 45, former resident of Campbell, was killed in an automobile accident on Highway 99 near Tulare on November 7, when his car was struck by a lumber truck. Mr. Klassen, returning from a visit with his father in Reedley, was killed instantly and the impact caused his car to catch on fire, destroying it completely.

Mr. Klassen, known as "Abe", was a cannery foreman here for many years and for several years operated the Ohlen Hatchery. During the past five years he and his wife operated the Miner's Trading Post in Johannesburg.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Klassen of Johannesburg; his father, P. M. Klassen of Reedley; four sisters, Mrs. Anna Gerbrandt, Mrs. Mary Gerbrandt and Mrs. Sarah Eitzen, all of Reedley and Mrs. Kathryn Kroeher of Tranquility, also a brother, C. P. Klassen of Campbell.

Born in Saskatchewan, Canada, he moved to California with his family in 1919. He made his home in Campbell from 1927 to 1945. He was a member of Campbell I.O.O.F. Lodge and active in Campbell Congregational Church. During World War II he served with the Merchant Marine.

Spartans Tangle With Cal Poly This Saturday

Wrapped in the throes of one of the worst losing streaks in Spartan history, San Jose State gridders return to Spartan Stadium Saturday night to meet the tough California Poly Mustangs.

The Mustangs figure to be doubly dangerous for the Spartans. Tough enough under normal circumstances, they will be rebounding from a 21-13 loss to Fresno last week and also will be anxious to erase the disappointment of last year's game in which only a last-minute interception enabled the Spartans to hang on for a 21-13 victory.

This will be the 10th meeting in the series, which started in 1923, and the Spartans hold a 7-2 edge. It has been exactly 30 years since the Mustangs last defeated the Spartans, but they figure Saturday to have the best chance for victory. since that 1926 win.

San Jose State has now gone six straight games without a triumph, the longest such streak since 1931 when the Spartans lost the final six games of the season. The current streak includes one tie.

Of some consolation to Spartan followers has been the offensive display, spearheaded by quarterback Bob Reinhart and halfback Art Powell. Reinhart, the nation's second ranking passer, has completed 74 out of 138 passes for 938 yards. He has thrown for seven touchdowns and has had only two interceptions.

Powell, who because of close coverage has been used as a decoy as often as a receiver, has still moved to top of the nation's pass reception list with 29 receptions, cracking Junior Morgan's old Spartan record of 25. Powell's receptions have accounted for 456 yards, just 12 short of Morgan's 1949 record.

James Justice 59, Dies in Oregon

James A. Justice, 59, of 660 Emory St. in Campbell, died in a hospital in Eugene, Oregon, on November 5, after a short illness suffered while visiting relatives in Oregon for the past month.

Mr. Justice, a carpenter and cabinet maker, was an employee of Contractor Emory Garrison and a member of Carpenters' Union, Local 316.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Tennie Justice; two sons, Donald and Willard Justice; three daughters, Mrs. Isabelle Adams, Mrs. Lavada Sowers and Miss Beverly Justice, all of Campbell, also 14 grandchildren. He also leaves five brothers, Lester and Richard Gratton of San Jose; Everett Gratton of Illinois; Bill Justice of Illinois and Jack Justice of Utah; also three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Herd of Campbell; Mrs. Velma Curtis of Missouri and Mrs. Ruth Hicks of Morgan Hill.

The Rev. Billie Pate of Campbell Baptist Church officiated at services last Saturday at 9:30 a.m. from the Darling-Fischer Garden Chapel in San Jose, followed by interment at Oak Hill Memorial Park. Assisting in the rites were The Rev. I. R. Wall and The Rev. C. E. Hunt.

Services were conducted last Saturday morning at Mennonite Brethren Church in Reedley. Following services in Reedley, his remains were moved to Johannesburg for further rites at 2 p.m. Sunday and interment followed at Inglewood last Tuesday.

Mums in Limelight At Garden Club's Flower Show Here

Chrysanthemums prevailed in the many beautiful floral arrangements and horticultural exhibits displayed at the Campbell Garden Club's annual flower show held last week at the First Methodist Church here, which was attended by more than 300 members and guests.

Using the flower show theme, "Autumn Curtain Call", and titles of popular song hits for individual arrangements, Campbell women exhibited a high degree of originality and imagination in the floral arrangements submitted.

For those who have won from one to five ribbons, Juanita Lynch received a blue ribbon with her barbecue arrangement, Beverly Brown with flowers in a bottle, and Mary Alice Blice won first with her pine branches, cones and mums. Olga Mairoff took first with her piece to be used for a hall.

In the section for arrangements by novices, or those who have not received any ribbons previously, Mrs. Florence Fuller took first with a striking piece using manzanita and mums and Mrs. Harriet Welch won in the vertical arrangements, using only one flower.

In the section for clubs, Furyu won with a Thanksgiving table piece, in stiff competition against Blossom Valley Garden Club, Cereza Flora, Weed Killers, Iris Society, The Herb Society, La Jardinieres and Campbell Garden Club.

Dorothea Warner took first with her miniature and Barbara Emely and Ellen Knopf were first in the advanced class.

The horticultural section revealed the great variety of interesting and satisfying plants that can be grown in our valley. In this section, first prize winners were as follows: Mrs. Mary Triguero for her large yellow chrysanthemums, Mrs. Robert Scholz for large white chrysanthemums and Mrs. Camille Craddock for her bi-color purple chrysanthemums. Mrs. L. A. Roberson submitted small yellow pompoms, Mrs. Anna Feasel displayed medium pompoms, Mrs. Mark Kollmer exhibited large spray chrysanthemums, and Mrs. Joseph Aversente exhibited her single type daisy chrysanthemum.

Christmas and Community Pride

It appears now that enough money will be raised by the merchants and profesional people in Campbell to decorate the streets of the business section for Christmas so that the town can have the proper Yuletide atmosphere.

But it was touch and go for awhile.

Granted that no one eagerly likes to shell out dough, the fact still remains that dressing up for Christmas is almost a necessity. And somebody has to pay for it.

The City Council (and rightly so) agreed to contribute $300 toward the street decoration fund. We feet that such a contribution by the City was justifiable, inasmuch as the decorations can certainly be classified as a civic improvement, if even for a short while.

The Council, however, specified that the $300 would be forthcoming only on the condition that the business people put up $800.

Enough money was raised apparently, although a number of merchants surprisingly failed to contribute. It is difficult to understand this uncooperative attitude of a few and we hope that is will soon change because community pride is a necessity for any community, if the community is to progress.

Dressing up for Christmas is just one way of showing community pride.

What the C. of C. Is Doing

We wonder if city officials, local merchants or professional people, the man on the street, or the residents themselves appreciate the work the Campbell Chamber of Commerce is doing. Or more particularly the efforts that are being put forth by the secretary-manager of the Chamber, Sam Cava.

Much of the work that the hard-working manager has done remains unsung but nevertheless plays an important part in the progress of this community.

More and more the responsibility of an annexation program is falling on the shoulders of Cava. At the same time, by assuming this responsibility, Sam has actually become the watch-dog of the city boundaries. By his efforts he has been able to stymie the encroachment by other cities.

The manager is also continually striving to interest new industries in locating in Campbell. We doubt that city officials appreciate what this means to the City itself, and to its residents.

Annexations and new industries are just two items on the agenda of the hustling Chamber of Commerce manager.

But these two functions vividly illustrate the point we are trying to make.

The City Councilmen must realize that it is important to add additional territory to the city, especially industrial areas. Basically this increases the tax base and makes for a better over-all administrative program.

When new industries settle in Campbell it means additional payrolls, and again an increase in the tax base.

We are certain that local city officials appreciate all this.

Under the present informal arrangement, Cava is acting as a quasi-city emissary in the dealing with annexation problems. Most of the spadework (and there is a great deal involved even on the smallest annexation) is done by the Chamber of Commerce manager.

All this work is done without charge to the City, as an assumed function of the Chamber of Commerce.

Past experiences involving annexation questions have proved the need for some liaison officer such as Cava.

Despite the fact that many of the benefits resulting from this activity are of indirect value to the members of the Chamber of Commerce, the C. of C. heartily endorses it.

By the same token, this civic organization hopes that the City of Campbell recognizes what is taking place and appreciates it and gives credit where credit is due.

My Fellow Citizens:

I should like to express my appreciation for the vote of confidence shown by your vote in the General Election.

It will be my constant endeavor to continue to work in your best interests.

We have been quite intrigued by the reasoning behind the placing of the good-sized advertisements by "California's leading scalp specialist" in the "Spartan Daily", San Jose State newspaper.

Big, bold letters across the top of the 5-column ad announced:—"Now, you can win the fight against baldness" . . . "Don't Add to the Millions of Bald Americans, Expert Urges." Then there is a picture of S. E. Turoff, the scalp specialist and director of the eight California offices (one in San Jose) of the Turoff Hair and Scalp Experts. The ad goes on to tell what are the main causes of baldness and stuff like that there. It then goes into great detail in small print to explain what happens at the Turoff offices.

We didn't bother to read it all because fortunately even with our butch hair cut we happen to have most of our hair, although maybe our forehead has become a trifle higher over the years.

But it wasn't the ad itself that interested us. It was why the scalp experts picked a college newspaper in which to make their pitch.

It has always been our feeling that college students have a great deal more to think about than receding hair lines and the fringe on top. We don't think the average college student is particularly worried about becoming bald.

That worry comes later, say at the first reunion of his class.

And it generally becomes a problem at the same time the grad starts thinking about his waistline.

That's why we are interested in how come the hair specialist picked a college paper in which to make his appeal.

We have heard that today's college students are more mature but we hadn't noticed them losing more hair than in years gone by. But maybe they are.

—o—

"Will you send out one of your photographers" is a frequently heard request in our office, made generally by those who are somewhat unfamiliar with the limited staff with which we operate this sheet.

For a moment after we get such calls we sorta bask in the glow of being big time operators. But we fast come down to earth and hastily expain that our photography "staff" is singular not plural and it happens to be the editor and publisher also. As we so often say, we just put on a different hat and pick up the camera.

Apparently our approach is a little different than some of our contemporaries in the field.

—o—

Another weekly in this area not so long ago went into great detail to explain that in contrast to the general feeling the reporters (plural) on their paper were Republican while the publishers were Democrat. Inasmuch as their paper is smaller than ours we felt quite hurt that we couldn't make the same statement, i.e. as to reporters (plural) for our paper.

Another weekly in this area makes a big noise about being a picture-paper, maintaining that it prints all kinds of local pictures each week.

We've kept tab for a number of weeks and we find that we are printing twice as many pictures weekly than this other paper.

We guess we are missing the boat. Maybe we ought to make our operation sound big-stuff too. The only trouble is that we would get caught at it too easily. When one and the same guy arrives on the scene first as the photographer, then as a reporter and then again as the editor, we kinda feel the people would figure that we were stretching things a wee bit in using the plural.

We wonder how many have the same worry about some of the intersections in this locality as we do?

No matter how many times we go across the intersection, for example, of Winchester Road and Casey Road we are never sure we are doing it right.

We understand on good authority that despite the fact that Winchester Road curves and Casey Road appears to be a continuation of Winchester, a person is actually making a left turn when he goes onto Casey.

Yet we always feel a trifle silly when we stick out our hand for a left turn when going south on Winchester and then continue straight onto Casey. But we understand that's the correct procedure.

—o—

Another one of the intersections we dislike tremendously is Budd and Virginia.

Budd, as you know, ends at Virginia. But it ends on a sorta sweeping job and Virginia also makes a curve at the same time. It is quite a temptation, when traveling on Budd, to cut the corner pretty sharply which could prove pretty embarrassing if a car was coming up Virginia at the same time.

There are a number of other spots which we could mention that are also high on our list but these two are enough for now.

It so happens that we have just come back to the office after going safely across both of 'em again for the umpteenth time.

We had better not press our luck.

—o—

We always knew that gals get their hair cut but until recently we sorta figured that their locks were sheared in most cases within the confines of beauty shops. Or maybe one gal would clip another in a sort of do-it-yourself manner.

But we have learned differently.

We stopped in at Denver Miranda's new barber shop recently to get our butch trimmed and, lo and behold, every chair in the shop was filled by a gal. Denver was busily (and quite cheerfully, we might add) cutting the locks of a neat blonde at the time and seemed to be enjoying his work.

In his ad in The Press Denver mentions that he is specializing in ladies haircutting but somehow we didn't expect to run across a bevy of females when we went into his joint to get our flat-top back in shape.

We were taken aback for a moment.

But just for a moment. More and more we are getting used to having women around.

Even in a barber shop.

It Means STOP When Red Lights Flash on Buses

Red lights flashing from the top of a school bus means stop says the California Highway Patrol.

"Motorists approaching a school bus stopped beside the road with red lights flashing must stop and not pass the bus until the lights are turned off", declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell.

"These lights are used by the school bus drivers when children are about to cross the street or highway."

"It should also be emphasized that motorists are not required to stop if the lights are not lighted or if the bus is on the opposite side of a divided highway," Caldwell continued. "Full caution is necessary for safety and everyone should be sure they know the rules concerning school buses and obey them.

Remember, the red light indicating whether children are to cross the roadway or not are located near the top of the bus, two in front and two in the rear," he concluded. "To avoid an accident involving a school bus or its riders, obey the red lights on the bus, stop if they are flashing, do not stop, but proceed with caution if they are not lighted."

Tribute To A Friend

Editor, The Press
Sir:

On behalf of the community of San Tomas, I would appreciate if you would publish the following tribute to a friend and neighbor.

A week ago today, a man rose from his breakfast table, where he and his wife had been speaking of how nice it would be to go back to Oklahoma for the Thanksgiving Holidays. Today, his body lies in the family burial plot in Oakwood, Oklahoma. JOE T. McQUIN, 'Ode' to all his friends, died of a heart attack just as he was ready to step out of his home to go to work.

He was a quiet, gentle, good man, one who did not create a lot of attention wherever he went, but in the little community of San Tomas, where he had lived for the past sixteen years, the same words were on the lips of everyone—"We shall surely miss Ode, with his kindly word and cheery smile that he had for everyone". Yes, we shall miss you, Ode, but we shall try to think, as the poet wrote, so wisely,

"Gardens of roses perish and fall in the sodden rain,
"Lives that we love and cherish,
go out in a mist of pain;
"But roses will rise from the dust at the call of the Spring
"And somehow,—we trust—
Death is Life's wing."

SALVATION ARMY RELEASES TOTALS

The San Jose Salvation Army Center released a statistical summary this week, that shows that 19,358 meals and 9,441 nights of lodging were granted beneficiaries to date this year.

Chapel services since the beginning of the year have totalled 102, and were attended by 2,815 persons, according to Kenneth Ayres, officer in charge of the Center.

The Center is currently conducting a drive to obtain warm winter clothing. Discards will be repaired and placed in the Salvation Army Stores. From the sale of the items financial support is gained for rehabilitation work.

P. G. and E. answers your questions about electric blankets

Q. Do you really sleep better with an electric blanket?

A. Almost everyone does. An electric blanket lets you dial the sleeping comfort that suits you best. It spreads gentle warmth evenly over the entire bed—and keeps it at the temperature you want—all night long, regardless of the weather outside.

Q. How do you control the warmth?

A. Just turn the blanket "ON" each night—it does the rest! If the room temperature rises or falls, the blanket corrects for this temperature change—automatically.

Q. What about the new dual controls?

A. You can now buy an electric blanket with two controls—one control for each half of the blanket. This way husband and wife can select the sleeping comfort he or she likes best.

Q. How do you make a bed with an electric blanket?

A. Some models have "box" corners for perfect fit. Others spread across the bed like an ordinary blanket. Either way, bedmaking is fast and easy!

Q. Can they be laundered?

A. Yes—just follow the manufacturer's instructions. Made of cotton, rayon, nylon and the new "miracle" fabrics, they dry soft, fluffy and ready to spread.

Q. What sizes are available?

A. You can now get "twin," "double" and the new "king" size (twice twin bed size). Both single and dual controls are available on the double bed size.

Q. How many people own electric blankets?

A. In Northern California more than half a million people now sleep under electric blankets.

Q. What does it cost to operate one?

A. Just a penny a night, thanks to P. G. and E.'s low rates for electricity—a mighty small price for a good night's sleep! Don't you agree?

Electricity is cheap in California!

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Still not too late to plant spring flowering bulbs such as Tulips, Hyacinths and Daffodils—but hurry!

2. Several varieties of early blooming Camellias are now flowering in the nurseries. This is a good time to select them.

3. Cool weather bedding plants such as Stock, Snapdragons, Violas, Pansies, Baby Primrose and Calendula can be planted now.

4. These flowering plants can be sown from seeds and make an excellent ground cover for bulb beds, Baby Blue Eyes, Red Flax, Linaria, Virginia Stock, Sweet Alyssum and Pimpernel.

5. Ask your nureryman to see these outstanding foliage plants—Liquidambar (sweet gum tree), Chinese Pistache, Liriodendron (tulip tree), Ginkgo Grape and Virginia Creeper.

The Useful Ivies

Throughout California, useful Ivy vines are serving gardeners in many ways, for they can be used as container subjects, over fences, roots, archways, as borders, trailers, ground covers or merely as vines.

Ivies planted in the west are derived from two species, the Algerian or Canary Island Ivy (Hedera canariensis) and the English (Hedera Helix), The English, however, will grow in the mountain foothills as well as the other areas of the state. The Algerian has large, widely spaced, bright green leaves. A variety, variegata, has leaves edged with yellowish-white.

The English varies more in its leaf size and color, but normally its leaves are dark green and deeply lobed. One variety of the English climbs or grows to the size of a shrub (this form is called arborescens). Other varieties include Hahnii with light green leaves and a dense branching manner of growth making it a fine ground cover; conglomerata, a slow-growing dwarf which makes a good dense hedge; and minima, with angular leaves. In nurseries you may find such Ivy vines as Dragon Tongue, Gold Dust and Needle Point, illustrating the many Englih Ivy varieties available. This is due to this vine's capacity to sport—or produce a new stem entirely different from the parent vine.

Ivies endear themselves to California gardeners because they can be used in such a variety of ways, says the California Association of Nurserymen. For instance, if you'd rather not trouble with grass but want a lawn of lush green; plant Ivy. Or if you want grass but want to minimize the upkeep, plant a border of Ivy, thereby eliminating the necessity for clipping the lawn regularly. The small leafed Ivy will tolerate a cutting from the lawn mower too—in fact, will be neater looking for it.

Green and white English Ivy will also make a fine contrast when planted with or under dark leafed plants. Solid colored forms can be used to line walks, border brightly colored shrub beds, or trail in a rock garden. Train it to outline a doorway, arch or twine about posts and trellises. Shrub forms of Ivy can be grown as hedges the trailing varieties in hanging baskets.

Ivy can play many roles in your garden. See your local nurseryman for several plants of this useful vine soon.

Time to Plant Bulbs

With the passing of the warm fall days from most areas of the state the California Association of Nurserymen recommends that gardeners give attention to establishing a bulb garden for spring bloom.

Bulbs are among the easiest and most reliable flowers to grow. With a minimum of care, they are sure to materialize into a lovely color display with the coming of Spring.

The variety of bulb flowers makes bulb culture all the more interesting. All time favorites are Tulips, Daffodils, Lilies and Iris all of which have large families with numerous blossom forms and colors. Alo popular, but lesser known, are Scilla, Crocus, Snowdrops and Grape Hyacinths. Both of these groups may be grown in combinations of colors that will welcome spring with a burst of beauty.

Bulbs may be planted in drifts, in clumps of two or three, beneath trees, along garden paths or in stately rows against a background of evergreen shrubs. For close at hand enjoyment, plant these lovely flowers in containers.

Bulbs prefer deep, cool loam but will thrive in less ideal soils. The depth and distance between plants varies with each type. Get the correct distances from your nurseryman when buying bulbs.

Your bulbs may need protection from gophers and if this is the case, plant them in a wire basket. Daffodils, because of their bitter taste require no protection. It is also a good idea to set your bulbs where their fading blooms and foliage will be covered by freshly blooming plants.

When planting in containers, be sure to leave room for root development. In small containers set bulbs near the top and put the containers in trenches or boxes and cover with earth, mulching and peat moss. Wen the stems have reacher four inches, give them protection from the hot sun and later bring them in for forced blooming.

For Hanging Baskets

Hanging baskets are a most attractive way of growing trailing plants and the group of subjects for this type of gardening includes some of the most beautiful plants in all flowerdom.

Many small leafed varieties of the English Ivy make attractive green or variegated subjects for the hanging basket garden and the Erigeron karvinskianus offers white or pinkish daisy flowers set along its trailing branches.

Another foliage plant with a trailing habit and therefore a good choice for a container is the Peppermint Geranium (Pelargonium tomentosum) which has gray green leaves covered with a silvery fuzz and which give off a peppermint scent when rubbed or crushed.

There are several plants, perennials and shrubs, which will trail if given the chance and these make fine hanging basket subjects, the California Association of Nurserymen recommends. The Shrimp Plant (Beloperone guttata) is an evergreen shrub usually treated as a perennial. Its flowers are white, spotted with purple and enclosed in coppery-bronze bracts. By pinching and cutting back stems the Shrimp Plant can be kept low and spreading. The Lotus mascaensis is another shrub which will cascade gracefully over the side of a hanging basket if given the chance. Normally erect and bushy, its narrow silky leaflets are brightened by yellow flowers.

Prune Day Takes Place on Davis Campus Saturday

Prune Day to be held on the Davis campus of the University of California on Saturday, November 17, will feature a special moving picture showing the latest in mechanical harveters, according to Ralph R. Parks, extension agricultural engineer.

Among the mechanical harvesters to be shown will be the University "Prune Catcher," already used at several ranches. It was developed by Allan A. McKillop, assistant professor of agricultural engineering at Davis.

The catcher is pulled by hand from tree to tree. The prunes are shaken down on a canvas apron, from which they roll onto a conveyor belt (hand-cranked) which deposits the fruit in field boxes. The University has supplied building plans of the catcher on special order of growers.

Also to be shown in the movie are two types of prune pick-up machines. The first, the Goodwin pick-up, is manufactured at Manteca by a former student at the Davis campus.. It will be shown in field operations from last season's harvest. It picks a very clean sample of prunes and may also be used for nuts.

This machine works so quickly that it would not be practical to use boxes to handle the prunes picked up. Therefore the prunes are dropped into a big water-filled tub. Ranchers who use the Goodwin must have their own dehydrators, as co-op dehydrators are not yet prepared to receive prunes in bulk.

A second pick-up to be shown, the Blackwelder, was designed for the smaller grower. Not much larger than a power lawn mower, it is self-powered and harvests a 20-inch swath. A rubber belt with "fingers" picks up the fruit. The prunes then fall into an ordinary field box, which is removed from the machine when full.

This Blackwelder machine was originally designed by James Patterson of Woodland, in cooperation with the University of California department of agricultural engineering. The pick-up was further developed by Blackwelder engineers, Rio Vista. It is still in the testing stage.

Prune Day at Davis will also feature informative talks on factors influencing the quality of prunes. The program begins at 9:30 a.m. in the Chemistry building auditorium and ends at 4 p.m. A roundtable discussion with a question and answer period will end the day's activities.

Heart Association Issues Book on Rheumatic Fever

A new booklet directed especially to parents whose child has rheumatic fever is now available from the Santa Clara County Heart Association, it has been announced by Dr. Leon P. Fox, president of the organization.

The booklet, "If Your Child Has Rheumatic Fever," is an adaption of a publication issued by the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It provides useful information for reinforcing the physician's advice.

The booklet is available at Heart Association headquarters, 461 Porter Building, San Jose, to physicians who may wish to distribute it to parents of children they are treating, to social workers and public health nurses who are required to interpret the physician's instructions to parents, and to other interested persons.

Rheumatic fever is a disease that most often occurs in children and young adults and that sometimes results in heart damage.

General Gets Appointed To Smog Advisory Board

General Richard E. Mittelstaedt, former commander of California's 40th National Guard Division and a hydraulic consultant for the California Water Service, has been appointed to the advisory council of the Bay Area Air Pollution (smog) Control District.

The 20-man advisory council is headed by Ivan Johnson, president of Pacific Steel Casing Company. It is composed of representatives of major community groups in seven Bay Area counties.
